

Editors's Note

At last, the Fine Arts International Journal has arrived despite certain complications. In this issue, an encouraging trend of support was encountered from enthusiasm of a good number of outstanding academic authors and diligent students. This issue collects many interesting works ranging from specific researches on particular areas of local arts and music to the art and design development and art education.

Special thanks to Associate Professor Dr. Manop Wisuttiapat, Dr. Aran Wanichakorn, and many others in the fields of Design, Music, Art and Arts Education. The next issue is promisingly on its way.

Greetings to all for the prosperous development in arts, culture and education through the year of 2014.
